Comments:

25X1

1. On 31 December 1954, this turbine was being repaired at Bergmann Borsig because the blades had been smashed a few days previously. This was the second occurrence of this type damage since the delivery of the turbine earlier in the year.
2. During December an older turbine (20 MW) broke down; total increase of capacity at this plant at the end of the year was therefore 5 MW.
